

*Streetwize Communications
in partnership with the Ted Noffs Foundation presents*

ON THE EDGE

A free training day for workers in the field of youth on Dual Diagnosis issues

This training day will review the main issues presented in the 'On the Edge' comic around dual diagnosis.

Participants will discuss current services available, and the support needs of workers who engage with young people with dual diagnosis.

Topics for discussion will include:

- ‡ The build up of symptoms of dual diagnosis.
- ‡ What happens during an episode of psychosis.
- ‡ The stigma young people feel about mental illness.
- ‡ Peer support – what friends can do.
- ‡ National services available and what will happen when these services are accessed.

Who should attend

Workers who want to know more about responding to dual diagnosis issues with young people.

Date 22 June 2006

Where Sydney, NSW

To register for the free training day send the registration form and needs assessment questionnaire to Streetwize Communications, 6/245 Chalmers Stree, Redfern, NSW, 2016 or Fax 02 9319 5553, or email jo@streetwize.com.au by 9 June 2006

Enquiries: Jo Taylor 02 9319 0220.

There are a number of travel bursaries available for people outside the Sydney area.

This project has been funded by The Myer Foundation, Beyond Blue and the Commonwealth Department of Health and Ageing National Comorbidity Initiative.

